

NEW OBSTACLES TO CONNECTING ROAD

City Now Insists that It Shall Pay Damages for Disturbing Sewers.

That the city will not yield to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and modify the terms under which the company seeks a franchise for the proposed New York connecting road, through Brooklyn and Queens, became apparent to-day at a conference in the Mayor's office.

President McGowan and Borough Presidents Coler and Bernal comprised the conferees. They constituted a committee appointed by the Board of Estimate to arrange terms. When the conference had been in session several hours it was announced that the committee would not only insist upon the chief terms and conditions being imposed for a franchise to be awarded, but would exact additional indemnity from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for another item of expense not heretofore considered in the negotiations.

This contemplates full compensation for damages resulting to the sewer system in making the excavations. Mr. Bernal pointed out that the trunk sewers would be disturbed or destroyed if the present intentions of the company's plans are carried out, and to erect consequent loss to the city. It was then decided by the committee to report accordingly.

IRISHMEN GET BUSY ON 'M'FADDEN'S FLATS.

Burlesque That Has Been Egged
Repeatedly Arouses Trouble in Paterson.

PATERSON, N. J., April 12.—The volcanic production, "McFadden's Flats," which has been the target for showers of prophetic eggs aimed by indignant Irishmen all over the country, is to be produced here tonight. That there is trouble ahead for it here was shown to-day when a committee of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, on Mayor Johnson and protested against the production of the play.

The delegation declared that they objected to it on the ground that the character of a drunken, immoral woman and a so-called comedian who "makes up" with oaken whiskers, colored green, who appear in the play, are gross caricatures on the race and are liable to provoke the indignation of the Irish residents of the city. This committee desired it to be understood that their organization does not object to decent caricature or legitimate characterization of Irish types, but in this instance they declare that the presentation is an offense to good taste, good morals and good sense.

Chief of Police Binson was present at the conference, as well as the manager of the play. The manager volunteered the assurance that the play will be produced without any irritating trimmings and he invited the Hibernians to take a box and look it over. The Hibernians accepted the invitation. They said they would go, and reserved the right to get busy as the play progresses. The manager may put up a net in front of the stage.

JAYCOX TAKES SEAT OF SMITH ON BEACH.

ALBANY, April 12.—Gov. Higgins to-day appointed Judge Walter P. Jaycox, of Suffolk County, as Justice of the Supreme Court in the Second Judicial District, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Justice Wilcox M. Smith.

Judge Jaycox is the present County Judge of Suffolk County and the Governor says that he was indorsed for the appointment by a large number of prominent Democrats and Republicans.

SUICIDE FROM WASHINGTON.

Father Claims Body of Man Who Knelt in Front of Train.

(Special to The Evening World.)
NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., April 12.—Coroner Moke has received a telegram from J. N. Bond, of Washington, D. C., notifying him that the man who committed suicide by kneeling in front of a Pennsylvania Railroad train, is Bond's son.

A business card of Bond & Co., china dealers, of No. 122 G street, Washington, was found in the suicide's pocket. Mr. Bond is coming to this city to claim the body.

MR. TAPIR IS IN TOWN.

Nine elephants, six polar bears, several lions, tigers, panthers, hyenas, black bears, monkeys and birds and one tapir were brought into port from Bremen to-day on board the steamer Seydlitz. The polar bears occupied breezy cages on deck, while the others were in warmer quarters below decks.

NO LUCK ON SHIP WITHOUT RATS

Mate Says Unlucky Trip of the Huddersfield; Just In, Proves It.

Giovanni Borrelli, a stevedore, of No. 41 Carroll street, died of heart disease to-day in the stifling depths of the lower hold of the big British tramp Huddersfield, from Kymass, Greece, which docked at East Nineteenth street to-day with a cargo of manganese. When he learned of the fatality Mate Henry White again asserted, with emphasis, a saying he has been drumming into the ears of every one who would listen to him all the two months' voyage from Greece: "There ain't no luck comes to a ship without rats aboard." The story of the Huddersfield's voyage seems to bear him out.

Manganese is a white, chalky substance, principally used in the manufacture of carbonic acid gas. It comes in big chunks of a pound or so each, and as these were dumped into the Huddersfield's hold in the eastern port, the white, choking cloud filled the lower parts of the ship. It inconvenienced the crew, but it must have been poison to the rats, for by hundreds they swam, or swarmed down the gangway to the shore.

"Next night," said Mate White, "I was lying in my bunk, and I heard the sound of a rat running on the floor. I looked out and saw a little wisp of white smoke coming from under the hatch-covers and found that a condenser tube had sprung a leak and dripped into the hold, which filled with water. I took up two days to shove the burning stuff overboard and another day to patch up the tube."

"Then we ran into some seas that carried away two of our boats and made the ventilators look like dented pot hats, and that was the last of the hard luck till to-day. The master's berth? Oh, I was down to see the agents this morning. The boat sailed three days ago with another master, now I'm booked for a voyage to China on this old hooker. No, sir, there's no luck'll come to a ship without rats. We're out with a milked cargo, though, so maybe we'll ship a few before sailing day. If we don't they'll ship a new one."

"We were nosing along in mid-Atlantic when one night I noticed a sort of fizzing sound from the after hatch. I looked closer and saw a little wisp of white smoke coming from under the hatch-covers and found that a condenser tube had sprung a leak and dripped into the hold, which filled with water. I took up two days to shove the burning stuff overboard and another day to patch up the tube."

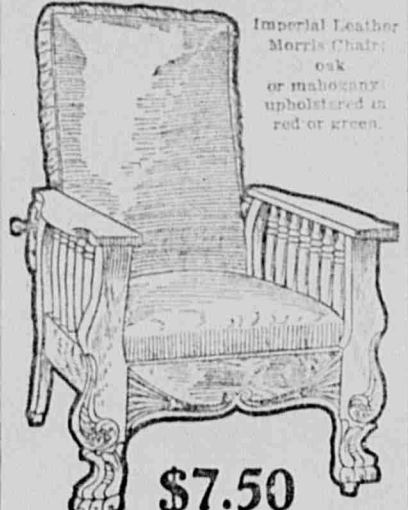

"Then we ran into some seas that carried away two of our boats and made the ventilators look like dented pot hats, and that was the last of the hard luck till to-day. The master's berth? BILL TAXING AUTOS PASSES THE SENATE.

(Special to The Evening World.)
ALBANY, April 12.—The Senate to-day passed the L'Hommedieu bill taxing owners of automobiles. The bill is $1 for every 100 pounds weight over the first 500.
Senator L'Hommedieu in advocating the tax said that the automobiles were tearing up the roads and that the owners ought to be made to stand some of the expense of keeping the roads in repair.

Women's serge suits 16.50.

HERE'S a suit bargain so exceptionally good that we would be derelict in our duty not to bring it into prominent notice. A suit that cannot be made to-day for a cent less than $30, and could only be sold at that figure at a close profit.

The material is an excellent grade of serge in either blue or black—cut after a very fashionable bolero Eton model—daintily trimmed with silk and Persian braids—made with the new Princess skirt and fitted bodice.

Have just 250 of these suits—all that we could get made up for us to sell at this figure. When they're gone, we shall be obliged to ask $30 or $22 for the same quality and style. There's nothing later, nothing more appropriate for Spring wear.

Sale of girls' reefers, 2.95
HAVE just secured from one of the foremost American makers of juvenile wearing apparel 500 stylish reefers for girls of 6 to 14 years of age, which we are able to offer at practically half their usual selling price.

They're made of fine paca or covert cloth—full box effects—gray, red, marine, blue, black and white—checked—some made with notch collar—some in collarless effect. Compare them with the $5 reefers. They come so near equalling them that most people would regard them fully as good. Here for Friday at.....

Misses' suits, $18.75. Made of plain chevrons—blue and black, or chiffon panama in high colors. Also fancy novelty mixtures, stripes and checks—short, natty coats or Eton effects with new circular skirts.

Children's wear.
PLEASANT surprise for those who associate fine materials and stylish make-up with high prices. Chance to dress up the little tot at a saving of nearly half.

Children's reefers, $1.95. Dainty examples in fine red and blue cloth, very stylish, cute cut, double-breasted, emblem on sleeves, sizes 2 to 4 years. It looks as if it cost $4 or $5, for.....

Queen Quality shoes. THE high quality standard of Queen Quality shoes is at all times maintained despite the small profit margin. Within the past year the cost of leather has advanced greatly, and many of the well known brands have been cheapened in quality as an offset—not so with Queen Quality.

You'll find them as good as ever—fashioned in the same faultless manner on lasts that insure a comfortable fit. Just as easy to make shoes that are easy on the feet as any other kind. It's all in the knowing how, and the makers of Queen Quality shoes have learned the secret.

Our Easter display includes a great variety of exclusive shapes in patent leather and kid. Among the oxfords the wide ribbon ties are the favorites. Pumps are in great demand. Shoes that the exclusive shoe houses ask fancy prices for at the low price range—2.50, $3 and 3.50.

WANTED—Experienced sales-people, young men or women, accustomed to fitting shoes in the best retail stores.

Men's Easter suits for $15.50. A SUIT of Kuppenheimer clothing means the same sort that some men go to custom tailors for—but at a far different price. Instead of paying $30 or $40 you pay $15.50—and when you take your place in the line of well-dressed men next Sunday you will feel as good as the best of them, because you'll know that every detail of your suit is absolutely correct form.

The best custom tailor clothing is the only kind to compare with these $15.50 suits! Made with the long-cut coats now popular, form fitting with snug collars—broad shoulders—deep side and centre vents.

Highest standard of excellence in suits and coats for American gentlemen. Few of even the best merchant tailors can stand a fair comparison with the peerless models turned out by the house of Kuppenheimer. So if you seek the best—it must be Kuppenheimer.

We show the newest fabrics—most exclusive patterns—fashionable grays in fancy Scotch and English chevrons—handsome silk worsteds in new grays and slates—and also in the novel two-toned effects which are creating such a furor this season. Then, for all occasions, the ever ready, always acceptable blue and black chevrons and serges, all at $15.50.

Men's derbies in the latest spring styles, regular $3 grades; special for Friday at..... $2.00
